MYSCOUTEE ORIGIN STORY • PART I

How can a world crowded with people leave so many of us without a path to one another?

In this first part of The MyScoutee Trilogy, Peter Szabo traces a life across Hungarian soil, Budapest, London, and nearly fifty countries. Rooms shared with strangers, missed connections, acts of trust, and the long road home gradually reveal the question behind MyScoutee.

Part memoir, part origin story, The City Between Us follows the experiences that turned loneliness, movement, and chance encounters into the first lines of a system designed to help mutual intention become a real, freely chosen meeting.

This is not a promise of perfect matches.
It is the story of why the path matters.
